Director's Note

It has been an honor and a pleasure to direct Shrek, the Musical! When I first saw Shrek, I knew this was a story my students and I had to share with the world. While on the surface Shrek seems to be a children's story, it features many moral messages. One of the morals that really spoke to us as a cast and crew was learning how to accept ourselves and others for their differences. This is our story. In many ways we are just like the characters in Shrek. During the production of this show, these students had to overcome many challenges, namely producing a High School level show in a matter of weeks. Let's just say - they've worked hard. They've learned how to run the show all on their own, from calling the show, to running the sound and light boards, to making sure all the props and set pieces are properly placed. Most importantly, they've shown heart, dedication, talent, diligence, and enthusiasm, exemplifying everything that a Fine and Performing Arts education can provide. As FMS Theatre's teacher and director, it has been my greatest joy to see Theatre come back to life again! I am so grateful to work with this cast and crew, and I love them learning crucial life skills during this show.

I would like to personally thank the Frost MS Administration, staff, and parents for their support while assisting our show to take the stage. I would also like to thank my amazing Theatre community for the continued guidance and support. And I would be remiss to forget to thank my wonderful family, friends, and Mathew for always believing and supporting me. Most of all, I would like to thank my students, cast, and crew for all their heart, talent, and inspiration. My students are the reason I do what I do, and I am so very thankful, lucky, and proud to be their teacher.

Always,

Ms. J

Special Thanks
